The Story of the Big Tough Chicken and the Red Wheel

Once upon a time there was a big chicken that had lived so long that his owner decided he was good for nothing but to crow and eat corn. But one day there was delivered at the owner's house a new gas range that had attached to the side of the oven a little RED WHEEL. With the new gas range came a direction book that told how the little red wheel could be used to make the toughest kind of meats sweet and tender, when cooked in the oven with the red wheel. So, the owner killed the big tough chicken and baked him in the oven. And lo and behold! The whole family, from grand-daddy with his false teeth to Audrey who didn't even have all her first set, proclaimed the big tough chicken to be the best meat they'd ever enjoyed.

Come, in today and see these wonderful ranges at the office of the

Well, I am going away Thurs. a.m. and Hurum and Rufus will put out this col. for a month only they won't have to do it twice a wk. because we are going on a Summer schedule of only once a wk. so their stuff should ought to be pretty nifty only having to do it once a wk.

All the time I was figuring that the bus. mgr. would miss me while I was away with him doing his work and mine too and would think all the time I sure wish he was back here doing his own work why he shows me where it would be a good thing to go on a summer schedule and thinking of how awful it would be on you readers to shove Hurum's and Rufus's stuff up to you twice a wk. why I say sure go to a summer schedule.

A little bezo of four yrs. old who has got a cart goes over to Mrs. Brooks house and while he is talking to her he says my bolts are a little loose and needs tightening up. And Mrs. B. misunderstands him and thinks he says a six-letter word meaning insides instead of bolts.

Geo. Peckham comes in with a want adv. saying that he found two blk. cats on his front porch that was left there with a note that said they come from good parents and was nice kittens and the want adv. saying the owner can have same by calling for them at the Herald office. Geo. wanted to leave said cats in Herald office until somebody answered the adv. but they wasn't no chance.

Did you see Ed Huddleston's new advs starting off with I says to Hudd? Well since he started running them I guess he has oiled the hinges on the door of the furniture store because when you walk by the screen door swings wide open and if that ain't asking 'em to come in why I never seen nothing that was.

One thing the annexation talk is doing is providing a new subject for conversation now that the light and paving questions is almost settled.

Plenty of the joy is taken out of contemplating a vacation when you set down with a calendar and realize that on the day you get back you got a note falling due.

And another thing that don't help is to have a insurance man come in and say you better take some accident insurance because a lot of people gets killed on trains.

Between the insurance men and the banks why they get all your money before you start on a vacation.
